ABOUT ZOE

Zoe's love of reading fairy tales and her penchant for an old fashioned dip pen and ink inspire her to create quirky hand drawn illustrations.

Zoe has a degree in illustration and a post graduate Diploma in Publishing.

She works as an illustrator, from her home studio. Zoe has published two children's picture books and a colouring book. She is now busy writing her first middle-grade novel, illustrated of course.

When not covered in black ink or with dip pen in hand, Zoe can most often be found drinking tea, walking her dog or driving her bright yellow vintage Beetle around the Island.
